VEHICLE RESCUE AGREEMENT (Don't Lose Your Car / No Pierdas Tu Carro / Pa Pèdi Machin Ou)

Parties. This Vehicle Rescue Agreement ("Agreement") is between DETENCIONDEFENSACOM, INC., a Delaware corporation doing business as DetencionDefensa.com and Don't Lose Your Car ("Company"), and the vehicle owner(s) signing below ("Owner"). If more than one person is named on the title, every titled owner must sign, and "Owner" means all of them.

1. What this program does. If the Owner's vehicle is towed, impounded, or must be sold because the Owner is detained or leaving the United States, the Company will (a) find out where the vehicle is held, (b) calculate whether a sale would leave money for the Owner, and (c) if it would, refer the vehicle to a licensed Florida motor vehicle dealer ("Partner Dealer") that has agreed to retrieve it and buy it at no less than the Guaranteed Minimum Price in Schedule A.

2. What the Company is not. The Company is not a motor vehicle dealer and does not buy, sell, or hold title to vehicles. It does not receive, hold, or transmit the Owner's money. It does not give immigration, criminal, or tax advice. Documents prepared through the program are reviewed by Sorrentino Law Firm, PLLC under that firm's separate limited-scope engagement with the Owner.

3. Referral fee disclosure. The Partner Dealer pays the Company a referral fee of $250 for each vehicle the Partner Dealer accepts. The Owner pays the Company nothing. This fee is not deducted from the Owner's proceeds and does not reduce the Guaranteed Minimum Price.

4. Trigger events. The Agent named in Schedule C may act only after one of these events ("Trigger Event"): (1) the Owner is taken into immigration or criminal custody; (2) the vehicle is towed or impounded while the Owner cannot retrieve it; (3) the Owner, or the Owner's Designated Contact, asks in writing (text or app message counts) for the vehicle to be sold; or (4) the Owner departs or is removed from the United States. The powers of attorney signed with this Agreement are effective when signed, as Florida law requires. The limits on when the Agent may act are a binding instruction between the Owner and the Agent and are set out in Schedule C.

5. Viability test. No pickup unless the Owner nets money. Before any retrieval, the Company will calculate: Estimated Net to Owner = Guaranteed Minimum Price − towing and storage charges through the expected pickup date − any lien payoff − the dealer's transport cost listed in Schedule A. If the Estimated Net to Owner is less than $500 (the "Minimum Net"), the vehicle will not be retrieved under this program. The Company will tell the Designated Contact in writing, show the calculation, and explain the other options, such as voluntary surrender to the lender.

6. Retrieval. If the viability test is met, the Partner Dealer may pay the towing and storage charges and retrieve the vehicle using the Authorization to Release Impounded Vehicle. If a law enforcement agency has placed a hold on the vehicle, retrieval waits until the agency releases it. The Partner Dealer advances the charges. They are deducted only as shown in the Schedule A settlement statement.

7. Inspection and offer. Within 24 hours after retrieval, the Partner Dealer will send the Designated Contact dated photos, a condition report, the benchmark valuation printout, and a written offer of at least the Guaranteed Minimum Price.

8. Right to refuse the offer. The Owner or Designated Contact may reject the offer in writing within 48 hours of receiving it. If the offer is rejected, the Partner Dealer will release the vehicle to the person the Owner names once the charges it advanced are repaid. Silence after 48 hours counts as acceptance only if the offer is at or above the Guaranteed Minimum Price.

9. Liens. The Owner authorizes the Agent and the Partner Dealer to request a payoff statement from any lienholder and to pay off the lien out of the sale price, but only if the Minimum Net is still met after payoff.

10. Payment of proceeds. The Partner Dealer pays the net proceeds directly to the payee in Schedule B within 3 business days of title transfer, by check, ACH, or deposit to the detainee's commissary account through the facility's approved deposit service.

11. Title, plates, odometer, and insurance. The Agent signs the title, bill of sale (HSMV 82050), and odometer disclosure for the Owner. The Partner Dealer removes the license plate and returns it to the Designated Contact or surrenders it as Florida law requires. The Owner is responsible for cancelling insurance after the sale.

12. Personal property. Personal items found in the vehicle are photographed, inventoried, and held for the Designated Contact for 30 days. Items left after that may be disposed of as allowed by law. Weapons, cash over $100, and documents are reported to the Designated Contact right away.

13. Condition and liability. The Owner understands that the vehicle may have been damaged before it was towed or while it was in storage. Neither the Company nor the Partner Dealer is responsible for damage that occurred before the Partner Dealer took possession. The Partner Dealer is responsible for the vehicle while it is in the Partner Dealer's possession.

14. No guarantees beyond Schedule A. The Company does not promise that a sale will happen or that any price beyond the Guaranteed Minimum Price will be paid. The Company makes no statement about whether it is safe for any person to visit a tow yard or government office.

15. Revocation. The Owner may cancel this Agreement and the related powers of attorney at any time before a sale closes, using Schedule D or any signed writing. Cancellation does not undo a sale that has already closed, and the Owner must repay any charges the Partner Dealer advanced before the vehicle is released.

16. Privacy. The Company collects only the information needed to locate, value, and transfer the vehicle. It does not ask about or record immigration status for this program. It shares information only with the Partner Dealer, the Agent, the tow operator, the lienholder, and government motor vehicle offices, as needed to carry out this Agreement.

17. Language. This Agreement is provided in English, with courtesy translations in Spanish and Haitian Kreyòl. The English version controls.
18. Governing law and disputes. Florida law governs. Disputes go to small claims or county court in Miami-Dade County, Florida. Nothing in this Agreement waives a consumer right under Florida or federal law.
19. Entire agreement. This Agreement, its Schedules A–D, and the state forms signed with it are the whole agreement for this program.

Condition adjustments allowed: documented body damage, missing keys, non-running vehicle, flood or fire damage, missing catalytic converter, and anything else listed with photos; each must show its dollar amount.
